Le Coucou Méribel: A paradise for families

Le Coucou Méribel, nestled in the heart of the Three Valleys, is delighted to announce its reopening on December 12th. Designed to offer an unforgettable experience for families, this five-star establishment stands out for its warm atmosphere and refined décor by designer Pierre Yovanovitch, combining alpine tradition with modern comfort. With 55 rooms, including 39 family suites and 2 private chalets, Le Coucou is the ideal place to create memorable family moments.

Children: travellers in their own right

Upon arrival, children are immediately involved in the check-in process and receive a special invitation to discover the Kid's Club, a magical space dedicated to their imagination and learning. The youngest guests are welcomed like true VIPs.

In their room, a personalised card and a sweet treat specially prepared for them will be waiting. Each child will receive gifts and surprises perfect for a ski holiday, including slippers, hats, neck warmers, and more.

Services designed for families

The hotel's restaurants also pay special attention to young diners. Children's menus, both balanced and fun, are available, with the option for kids to customize their dishes. The ski room team, led by Louis and his colleagues, will offer children the best equipment, carefully selected to ensure their comfort and safety on the slopes.

To turn this usually tedious moment into a pleasant one, the team has developed a playful approach. Children actively participate in the preparation process by trying on different pairs of shoes and skis while having fun, with the help of the welcoming and patient staff.

Unforgettable experiences for children

Every day, creative activities will spark children's curiosity, with artistic and educational workshops to brighten up their afternoons. For a fun-filled evening, they can enjoy movies and popcorn. During school holidays, the hotel will host dance parties every Friday as well as shows created by the children themselves, to add a festive touch. At Le Coucou Méribel, even the kids have their moment of glory at the bar. From their check-in, they receive tokens to order mocktails with creative flavors, just like the grown-ups, and have the chance to participate in workshops to learn how to make their favourite mocktails.
